THE CABINET IN THE SULKS. Opposing the Republican Ticket-All the Members Except Chandler Showing Marked Coolness Towards the Nominees. A Washington special to the Philadelphia Times says: During the past few days there has been much quiet consultation among the Republican leaders here as to the attitude of the Administration towards plets. the ticket nominated by the Republican Convention at Chicago. The coolness and reserve of the members of the Administra-tion towards certain prominent Republ-cans attracted sufficient attention to make cans attracted sufficient attention to make the matter a subject of earnest inquiry. It was agreed among these gentlemen that certain of their numbers should wait upon the members of the Cabinet, and in the course of an apparently casual conversa-tion upon the work at Chicago ascertain whether there was any formulation for their whether there was any foundation for their doubts. The result, as far as several of the members of the Administration were con-cerned, confirmed the reports of indifference, if not absolute antagonism.

A distinguished representative from Pennsylvania, not cognizant of the general rumors, said to-day that he had just left a member of the Cabinet, and was surprised to bear him not only refer disparagingly to the ticket, but insinuate that the Con-vention had refused to nominate President Arthur, and he supposed that they did so with the understanding that the party might have to elect the ticket without their aid. This very significant remark having been mentioned to a party of Republicans, one of the number observed that in view of the reference by the member of the Cabinet to the fact that the Convention was notified what might be expected if President Arthur were not nomir sted, he could now comprehend the meaning of certain por-tions of the speech of Martin I. Townsend in nominating President Arthur, which at the time he thought were either in bad taste or designed as an attempt to bulldoze the Convention into the support of the President. The speech, it was conceded, had the sound of a threat and a warning, which interpretation is further justified by the now well-known indifference of the members of the Cabinet, with the exception of Mr. Chandler.

The language used by certain members of the Cabinet has been preserved, as it is inferred that their position simply reflects the attitude of the President. It is proposed to await his return, when certain developments are expected soon to follow. It is understood from those in close official and personal relations with the President that he is displeased with the negative en-dorsement given his administration in the platform, and that he claims that if his administration kept the party united, and was on the whole satisfactory, he was entipears that he is also annoyed and chagrined at the fact that all the old leaders who made him the nominee for the second CARS EAR-CORN, now at Alleghany depot, and place on the ticket of 1880 should in 1884 be found against him. It is hinted that the entertainment of Senator Cameron at the Executive Mansion during the Convention was intended to give the appearance of support of his renomination. The sence of support of his renomination. And Senator, however, since his return from Europe, has admitted nothing more than that he would support the nominee. In response to a question as to how he liked the ticket he laconically replied: "First that the would support it all the support I rate, and I shall give it all the support I can in Pennsylvania and elsewhere."

It is stated that the attitude of the Administration will be brought to the atten-tion of the National Committee at their meeting next week, with a view to lessen-ing the friction and the establishment of cordial relations and support, if possible. The leaders claim that the nominees were the people's choice, and if blame attaches anywhere for the failure of the Presi-dent's friends to secure his nomination, it is in the ranks of the opponents of Mr. Blaine, for had the field combined on the President against Mr. Blaine they would have swept the deck despite the preference of the people. It is thought, after the first flush of disappointment shall have subsided, the Administration will place the responsibility of failure where it belongs.

A DUEL IN A CHURCH.

How the Minister's Daughter Assisted Her Lover to Slay His Rival.

A Hot Springs (Ark.) special of the 16th says: A desperate shooting affray be-tween two members broke up the services at a church of a settlement six miles east of here yesterday. Two young men, named Lem Dishowan and Peter Lewis, attended church with the avowed purpose of taking home the minister's young daughter, and when Lewis moved from his own into the minister's family pew while the sermon was in progress Dishowan drew his revolver and opened fire upon him. Lewis returned the fire, d the congregation made rapid exit way of doors and windows. Neither by way of doors and windows. Neither was hurt, and, both being disarmed, they agreed to go into the woods and fight it out with fist. Before they started, the girl, who was the cause of the fight, desired to speak privately with Lewis for a moment, which was granted. While the congregation were awaiting the result of the fist-fight a pistol-shot was heard from the direction of the scene of conflict. The congregation hurried to the spot and found Dishowan lying on the ground dying from a shot through the lungs. He said that he was getting the better of Lewis, when the latter drew a Derringer quickly from his hatter drew a Derringer quickly from his boot-leg and shot him. The girl had piaced the weapon there during her brief conference with Lewis just before the fight. Lewis may be lynched.

FIGHTING TO THE DEATH. A Desperate Encounter Between Cowboys and Cree Indians. A telegram from Fort McLeod, N. M., to the Philadelphia Press says: A South Piegan Indian named Shorty, of the In-dian police, arrived here in search of a horse stolen by the North Piegans. He brought in the news that there had been a big fight below Joe Kipp's place, on the Marias, between cowboys and Cree Indians, with fatal results. The cowboys were on the round-up, when they came on a party of five Cree Indians butchering a party of five Cree Indians butchering a cow. As soon as they saw the cowboys four of the Indians ran away, but one, bolder than the rest, walked toward them. One of the cowboys went out from the rest to meet this Indian, and when he got near enough pulled his six-shooter and fired at him. The Indian was hit pretty badly and dropped. He then raised himself to a sitting posture and fired at the cowboy, whom he hit in the breast. The latter was fatally wounded, and while dycowboy, whom he hit in the breast. The latter was fatally wounded, and while dying put four or five shots into the Cree, who was killed. The cowboy died soon after.

The other cowboys who had been watching the fight started after the other four Indians, and a lively encounter took place. The Indians took refuge in a coole and threw up a breastwork. The cowboys tried to storm their position, but the Indians were too well protected them off. They finally got away.

SPRING HUMORS.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE, Blood Purifer, Diuretic, and Aperient, no other so-called blood pu-rifler or sarsaparilla compound is for a moment to be compared with the CUTICURA RESOLVENT. it combines four great properties in one medicine, acting at once upon the digestive organs, blood, kidneys, and bowels. Humiliating Eraptions, and Loathsome Sores caused by it; to purify and beautify the Skin, and restore the Hair so that no trace of the disease remains. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood-Purifier, Dimertic, and Apericat, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, the great Skin-Cures and Beautifiers, are infallible. THE HERITAGE OF WOE.

I HAD SALT RHEUM In the most aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, medicine, or doctors did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden know how I suffered. When I began to use the CUTI-CURA REMEDIES my limbs were so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on them without the skin cracking and bleeding and the sobliged to go about on crutches. Used the CUTI-CURA REMEDIES five months, and was completely and permanently cared.

COPPER-COLORED.

I have been afflicted with troublesome skin discase, covering almost completely the upper part of my body, causing my skin to assume a copper-colored hue. It could be rubbed off like dandruff, and at times causing intolerable litching and the most intense suffering. I have used blood-purifiers, pills, and other advertised remedies, but experienced no relief until I procured the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which, although used carelessly and tregularly, cured me, allaying that terrible litching, and restoring my skin to its natural color. I am willing to make affidavit to the truth of this statement.
